

AJEE Ethical and Legal Conditions

We are open to cooperation with authors from all over the world. The managing editor is responsible for the vetting process in accordance with the technical requirements. The reviewing of the manuscripts is made within the AJEE team`s and reviewers` partnership.

The cooperation of the AJEE with the article`s author should be in agreement with the following conditions:

- 1) the author guarantees their authorship of the manuscript, in part or in whole;
- 2) the author also states that the manuscript, in part or in whole, has not been published previously, except as a conference paper or academic thesis;
- 3) the author also proves the absence of the other works, in part or in whole, direct or paraphrasing, in submitted manuscript, without permission, credit or acknowledgment;
- 4) generally translation of the article is permitted by the Editorial Board and the editor in chief due to its scientific value and absence of similar publications in English within the specific area;
- 5) the translated article, permitted to publication according to par. 4, should be accompanied by the reasonable note on the title page about the prior publication;
- 6) the final decision on the manuscript publication is made by the Editorial Board and the Editor-in-Chief and after the Transfer of the Author`s Rights Agreement has been signed by the author;
- 7) in case of any doubts concerning the authorship or research results, using in submitted manuscript, the managing editor will probably request the authors and their institutions to confirm that the research is genuine and original;
- 8) any suspicions or allegations of Ethical and Legal Conditions violation should be justified in the view of the author`s fairness. Besides this, when necessary, essential investigation should be carried out by the managing editor. On the primary stage the managing editor should collect all the evidences of the possible author`s violation and reach a conclusion about sufficient grounds to contact with the author and to seek his/her explanations. During this process both parties should take great care of fair and objective actions within investigation process and presenting a verdict. At any rate, AJEE is eligible to reject the manuscript on the motivated grounds of preassumable violation of the Ethical and Legal Conditions by the author;
- 9) if the duplicate publication is discovered in the course of the investigation, the first public version of the article will be determined as the "version of record" and the second one will be retracted according to the policies governing academic publication.
